SEPTA Quizzo

Wednesday, November 28, 5:30PM

Barrister's, 1823 Sansom Street

Hosted by YIP & The Economy League

Contact YIPAdvocacy@gmail.com & we'll save you a seat!

1) How many Market-Frankford Line stops are on Market Street?

a) 28

b) 15

c) 76

If you guessed 28, you're wrong. While there are 28 stops on the Market-Frankford Line, only 15 of those stops are actually on Market Street. (If you guessed 76, you must be on a bus.)

Join us for post-turkey & football SEPTA Quizzo fun at Barrister's this Wednesday at 5:30pm. Winners leave with prizes and all contestants will depart with nuggets of useless transit knowledge that only YIP and The Economy League could provide.

And who knows, after the happy hour specials you may find yourself calling on SEPTA for a ride home.

Vote for Paine's Park Project NOW

When the City told skaters there would be no more LOVE Park some of us felt skating in Philly would die. But skateboarding lives on and today advocates are fighting for a new place for skaters (young and not-as-young) to ride.

Vote for The Paine's Park Project (P3) in a skate park design contest sponsored by "Straight from the Hip." Winning this competition will help Paine's Park hold a fundraising event featuring a professionally planned art show and silent auction. The polls close in one hour, but voters on the West Coast will have three more hours than we do-- so vote now and spread the word.

- (1) Go to www.painesparkproject.org
- (2) Click on "Vote For Us"
- (3) At the "Straight From The Hip" website, scroll to Paine's Park Project
- (4) CLICK ON (vote for) PAINE'S PARK!

Take a tour of www.painesparkproject.org to learn more about this incredible site and design for Philadelphia's next skate park. To learn more about Young Involved Philadelphia's involvement in skateboard advocacy, e-mail YIPAdvocacy@gmail.com.
